

John Recker

Partner, KPMG LLP

John is a partner in KPMG's Audit practice serving the Austin and San Antonio offices. John works with clients in the energy, technology, financial services and medical device industries. John also serves as an SEC Reviewing Partner, a national instructor for KPMG's audit training and participates in the firm's annual quality review program. John is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Certified Public Accountants Society. John received his bachelor of science in accounting from Indiana University.

Professional and Industry Experience

John joined the firm in 1993 and spent the first five years of his career in the Chicago office where he devoted his efforts to serving high technology and financial services clients. In 1998 John transferred to the Austin office where he has specialized in working with the firm's software, semiconductor, and other technology-related clients, as well as energy, manufacturing and financial services enterprises.

In his current role, John focuses on the audit of companies ranging from early stage startups to companies with global operations, where he oversees the delivery of integrated audits, including the coordination of KPMG's resources throughout Europe and Asia. John has served as the lead engagement partner for several SEC registrants, and has worked with several companies navigating the S-1 process. He has deep experience resolving technical accounting and reporting issues, including those related to:

- Revenue recognition
- Mergers and acquisitions
- Divestitures
- Share-based payments
- Private and public offerings of debt and equity securities
- Restructurings
- SEC reporting requirements