

Peter Purcell

Chairman and Managing Director, Trenegy

Peter Purcell has over 27 years of business and consulting experience focused on helping rapidly growing companies address a variety of finance, operational, process and technology issues. Peter has held a variety of positions within industry including analyst at Shell Oil, CEO of a small business, and interim CIO at three energy companies. Peter is currently Chairman and Managing Director of Trenegy, a consulting firm headquartered in Houston equipping companies for growth and change.

Peter's passion for helping solve strategic issues that hamper a company's ability to manage growth and change led him to consulting where he became the partner in charge of the ERP practice for Ernst & Young Middle Market Consulting in Texas. He opened and managed the Ernst & Young consulting office in Austin, Texas which was focused on helping new companies plan and manage rapid growth. Soon after, he joined Deloitte to help start and grow the oil and gas practice.

Peter is best known for being a translator between business and IT for clients as they address strategic issues. He has helped companies in the oil & gas, manufacturing, and services industries select and implement fit-for-purpose ERP solutions, improve processes, obtain value from their organizations and implement change.

Peter believes in giving back to the community and has served on the board of several non-profit organizations. He is a member of the National Association of Corporate Directors. Peter received an MBA from Georgetown University in Washington, DC and a BS in Computer Science from the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, New Mexico.
