

Don C. Hare

Managing Director, WG Consulting

Don is a Managing Director leading WG's Human Capital Service line. The practice has the ability to deliver a full range of Human Capital solutions that are scaled to the specific size and need of the client. He has a broad background within M&A and Divestiture projects, and is recognized for his turnaround and start up work. In addition to HR, Don has led IT, Supply Chain, EH&S and Technical Training in both Global and Domestic companies. He has also served businesses in 100 countries throughout his career, including Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. Don has held roles such as Chief Human Resource Officer, Chief Administrative Officer, and Executive Officer at publicly traded companies and has worked with family owned businesses, Private Equity and Venture Capital backed companies. He has held roles within companies across a variety of industries and has provided consulting services to multiple companies. He frequently speaks on topics such as "Talent Optimization" and "The War for Talent" and is a graduate of Columbia University and New York University.