

Laura Schulte

Laura Schulte is a former executive with Wells Fargo Company where she led the enterprises largest banking divisions as a member of the CEO's management committee. She was also responsible for the company wide customer experience and affluent strategies. She has deep and broad experience in P & L management, risk management, compliance, credit, finance, and distribution. During her 32 year tenure she served as transition leader for multiple successful mergers and acquisitions. She retired at the end of 2014 to pursue consulting, mentoring and board work.

Schulte currently serves on the boards of State Farm Bank, Novant Health, Grubb Properties, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, University of Nebraska Lincoln College of Business, and the Bechtler Museum of Modern Art. She is a member of the Young Presidents Organization, Women's Corporate Directors, Women Executives and the International Women's Forum. During her career she was named on of the top twenty five most powerful women in banking.

Schulte earned a Bachelors of Science in Accounting from the University of Nebraska Lincoln and completed the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at University of Pennsylvania.