

William (Bill) Dries

William Dries served as senior vice president and chief financial officer of EnPro Industries, Inc., a NYSE-listed manufacturer of proprietary engineered industrial products, from 2001 until his retirement in 2011. From 1985 until 2001, Mr. Dries was employed by United Dominion Industries, a NYSE-listed manufacturer of machinery and instrumentation, where he was senior vice president and chief financial officer. He joined United Dominion as manager of accounting and subsequently became senior vice president of finance and controller. From 1974 until 1985, Mr. Dries was employed by Ernst & Young in New York. Mr. Dries was previously licensed as a certified public accountant and is currently on inactive status. Mr. Dries received his bachelor of science and master's degrees in business administration from Rutgers University.

Mr. Dries serves as a director of Transdigm Group, Inc. a NYSE-listed producer of aircraft components, where he serves on the Audit Committee and Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. He is also a director of NN Inc., a NASDAQ-listed manufacturer of highly engineered precision metal and plastic components and bearings, where he serves on the Compensation Committee and the Audit Committee (of which he serves as Chairman). Mr. Dries previously served as a director of Polypore International, Inc., a NYSE-listed manufacturer of polymer-based membranes, until that company was acquired in 2015.

Updated: January, 2017