

Sarah Stewart

Sarah Stewart is a Managing Director with the Board Practice of Boyden, a global executive search firm with more than 70 offices in 40 countries. Previously, she has conducted board director search and governance consulting projects as a Senior Associate, Executive Director and Partner with two New York-based search firms, Spencer Stuart and Boardroom Consultants.

During her career, her work has resulted in more than 300 director placements for public, private and nonprofit organizations, about one-third of which were for diversity candidates. She has also consulted with clients on corporate governance issues including board evaluation, management succession and board effectiveness. In addition to her board work, she has managed selected recruiting assignments for CEOs, CFOs, General Counsels, and senior human resources, investor relations and corporate communications professionals.

She has a BA from Colorado College and also studied at the University of London's Goldsmith's College. She is a member of the Private Business Advisory Board at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.
