

Lynette Horrell

Lynette Horrell is the Pittsburgh Office Managing Partner and an Assurance services partner with Ernst & Young in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. She has 28 years of experience serving numerous companies in different industries with emphasis in the manufacturing, chemicals and distribution industries. Lynette was admitted to the Ernst & Young partnership in 1998. As Office Managing Partner, Lynette oversees our Assurance practice including Retail, Distribution and Manufacturing (RDM), Energy, Technology, Communications and Entertainment, and Health Care practices. She is responsible for ensuring quality service to all clients in the Pittsburgh market as well as implementing and disseminating leading practices with respect to firm vision and thought leadership locally.

Lynette has significant experience serving SEC clients. Her role as Office Managing Partner combined with her multinational experience provides her with the unique access to global resources and tools to best serve her clients. She has served as coordinating partner on four initial public offerings and has extensive experience in a wide variety of other 1933 and 1934 Act filings. She was the local Sarbanes-Oxley technical resource in the initial year of implementation and serves as an area technical resource in the area of revenue recognition. In addition to revenue recognition, Lynette has extensive experience with stock compensation, purchase accounting and inventory accounting.