

Kelly Szejko

Kelly Szejko (Shako) has been a respected presence in the region's business community for more than three decades. With a gift for growing organizations, managing prospects and building expansive networks of volunteers, Kelly has parlayed her experience as an accountant and corporate controller into leadership roles in numerous non-profit business associations.

Kelly's dedication to the region's economic vitality, her ability to capitalize on untapped opportunities and the talented consortium of professionals that she has amassed are invaluable assets to western Pennsylvania and the organizations for which she serves. Kelly was named President of the National Association of Corporate Directors Three Rivers Chapter [NACD3R], January, 2012. NACD3R is a non-profit membership organization focused on promoting good corporate governance practices in Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati & Buffalo.

Membership in the National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD) provides directors and governance professionals outside of the boardroom with a forum to deepen their knowledge of leading practices, discover emerging governance trends and broaden their peer-to-peer networks.

Kelly also serves as President of the Pittsburgh Venture Capital Association [PVCA], an association that advocates on behalf of the investment community, and is the President of the Association for Corporate Growth [ACG], Pittsburgh Chapter, a trade association that fosters corporate growth through mergers, acquisitions and joint ventures, and is the Executive Director of the Turnaround Management Association (TMA), the only international non-profit association dedicated to corporate renewal and turnaround management.

Under her leadership, all the organizations have experienced impressive gains in membership, outreach and impact.
